

Saturday 29 September 2012

Harvest festivals have always been traditionally a time for giving thanks. The apples in the orchard, the fruit from the trees alongside all the home-grown crop of vegetables, help us realise our reliance on the earth.

And so we receive in abundance the blessings of the Lord of Creation as we cooperate as stewards of the earth entrusted to us. Hopefully time spent in the garden gathering up several types of flowers and fruit will provide us with offerings at the altar table of the Eucharist when we conclude with our celebration of the Mass.

The day begins with coffee at 10.00 am and ends at 3.45 pm

£10.00 for the day including lunch and refreshments.
